

GOOD COP BAD COP 5

Climate Change Model UN Conference

Friday 06 February 2026
1000 - 1400 GMT
online

www.engagewithchina.org/what-we-do/model-un

Engage with China is a UK registered charity building China literacy in UK schools
Registration number: 1184881

BUILDING GLOBAL MINDSET, ORACY, CROSS-CULTURAL SKILLS & ENVIRONMENTAL UNDERSTANDING

Our 1/2 day MUN conference provides a unique, global, climate-change, online debating platform for 15-18 year old students. Through participation students will:

- Negotiate climate-change related resolutions in real time with up to 500 students from four continents, across multiple time zones
- Build research, cross-cultural, diplomatic, negotiation, oracy & confidence skills
- Be challenged by hearing different, lived experiences & perspectives
- Encourage greater empathy, respect and tolerance
- Stimulate greater global awareness & global citizenship
- Be inspired by hearing speeches from senior VIPs
- Develop independent thought & critical thinking
- Enjoy a memorable & unique extra-curricular experience

VIP SPEAKERS

Representing the diplomatic, green energy, political and charitable sectors, students benefit from the wealth of experience and insights of our senior level, guest VIP speakers. In 2026, delegates will hear from the newly appointed British Ambassador to China, a senior representative from the Chinese Embassy and a leading rhino and elephant conservationist.

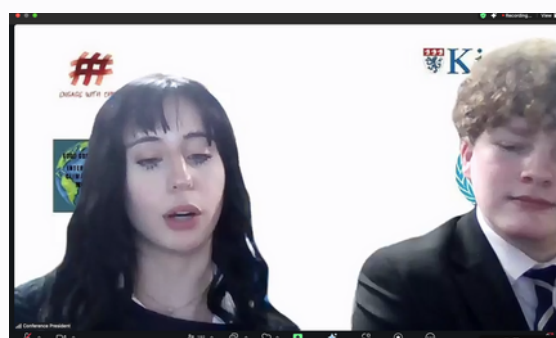

"It has taken more than 30 years for most governments to agree that human influence has unequivocally warmed the atmosphere, ocean and land. Knowing this, we need to act together now - both scientifically and politically - to tackle the harmful effects of climate change on the planet,"

Professor Sir Jim Skea, Chair of Inter-governmental Panel on Climate Change, VIP speaker, Good Cop Bad Cop 2025

CONFERENCE PRESIDENT

Valuable leadership opportunities are available for pupils who take up positions of responsibility including the role of President, Vice President and debate Chairs.

Climate change is an issue that stands as the biggest threat to our way of life. It is one that cannot be conquered alone. The only way we can save our planet is to put our individual and ideological differences aside and offer up a cooperative solution where we all perform our role in making a difference. Being able to interact with peers from around the world was awesome,"
Toby Hall, President, King's School Macclesfield

WHAT IS INCLUDED

- Access to a unique, international network of schools
- Opportunity for school debating / MUN teams to participate in a global conference in real-time
- 6 x climate-change themed debate resolutions to choose from - all based on real resolutions as debated at the UN climate change COP in Brazil, November 2025
- Participation in a cost-effective high calibre conference
- 2 x pre-conference workshops for teachers
- 1 x pre-conference session for debate chairs
- A delegate handbook
- Online resources
- Certificate of participation for every delegate
- Coverage in local & worldwide media
- Eco-project ideas & support to implement in your school

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE (UK TIME)

0930 - 1000: Conference registration opens

1000 - 1030: Plenary Session

Welcome from Conference President & VP

VIP speeches

Introductory speeches from selected delegations

1030 - 1315: Debate breakout sessions

1315 - 1330: Comfort break / Chair summing up

1330 - 1345: Closing Plenary

Chairs present debate summaries

1345 - 1350: Awards presentation

1350 - 1355: Vote of thanks from selected delegations

1355 - 1400: President closing remarks

Conference ends

Now in its 5th year

New for 2026

Eco Projects

Actions speak louder than words. Perhaps this conference will be the catalyst to kick-start an eco project in your school involving your MUN team, School Council or a wider group across the school. Talk to us about some ideas from the very simple to the more aspirational to support your school in encouraging behaviour change and eco-action.

A financial prize worth £150 will be awarded to the school with the best project implemented by the end of the summer term 2026.*

*Criteria to be confirmed in the Autumn 2025

Award categories

Our conference mantra has consistently been about collaboration and not competition because the war against climate change cannot be won alone. However, we wish to acknowledge the high calibre of debating skills and applaud those who deserve recognition for their skills. Categories will include Best Chair, Best Delegate, Best Newcomer and Best Delegation.

Presentation to winning delegation

The winners of the Best Delegation Award will be offered the chance to have a free online talk by a leading specialist that focuses on a professional discipline in relation to climate change, sustainable innovation or climate action.

£350 early
bird discount

Register by 30 October
2025

COST PER SCHOOL DELEGATION
regardless of number of participants

£ 410

@Engage with China

@Engage with China

@engage_china

ENGAGE WITH CHINA

What teachers said about the 2025 conference experience

"The conference gave my pupils patience, a space to disagree whilst being respectful, composure, confidence, persistence, critical thinking, analysis and deciphering. It also encouraged them to be insightful, see other people's perspective, boost internet literacy, global awareness and developed their knowledge base."

"AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY TO ENGAGE WITH THE WIDER WORLD ON SOME VITAL GLOBAL ISSUES.
IT WAS REALLY EXCITING AND INSPIRING!"
C BRADY, BISHOP PEROWNE COFE COLLEGE

"OUR STUDENTS WERE ABLE TO BUILD THEIR CONFIDENCE IN SPEAKING AND DEVELOP THEIR ORACY
SKILLS WHILST PROVIDING A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO ENGAGE WITH STUDENTS FROM THE WIDER WORLD. IT ALSO ENABLED THEM TO HONE THEIR RESEARCH SKILLS & DEVELOP THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF CLIMATE ISSUES." Ms NG'ANDU, BAOBAB COLLEGE

"In these times of seismic political changes across the globe, it is increasingly important to hear the voices of young people, to hear their concerns and to empower them to ask important questions of political leaders about existential crises. This Good Cop Bad Cop conference is a model for how the next generation can collaborate to seek climate justice for all and negotiate political solutions to climate change. We were very pleased to participate in this conference for the fourth time, and King's School Worcester students were excited to hear the views of students from across the world on the various topic areas of discussion,"
R Shearburn, Head of MUN, The King's School Worcester

"The Good Cop Bad Cop conference was a truly enriching and impactful experience for our students. It provided them with a unique platform to engage in high-level discussions on climate change, develop essential skills in diplomacy and negotiation and connect with peers from around the world. The conference's structure encouraged critical thinking, collaboration, and solution-oriented debate, making it both intellectually stimulating and highly relevant to global affairs. We deeply appreciate the effort that went into organizing this and look forward to future opportunities to participate."
Joanna Chen, Jinling Hexi School

For more information & to register engagewithchina.org/what-we-do/model-un/
info@engagewithchina.org

@Engage with China

@Engage with China

@engage_china

ENGAGE WITH CHINA